Dear Folks:

Back home from maneuvers already. It seems as though the surrounding country is too small, and not fit as far as terrain goes. So it seems to be the plan now to move to Louisiana and have some free maneuvers in the country over there. We'll probably move in about five weeks.

I finally bought a watch. I went into the PX last night and saw a Pierce waterproof etc watch with a sweep second hand for $30.00. I snapped it up quick, and so far it seems O.K. This leaves me somewhat flat if you can take a hint!

The nights down here are really cold. Not so much in temperature as in dampness - the kind that goes right thru. We changed to O.D.'s yesterday.

for which everyone is very thankful.

We are having a very peculiar situation at our NCO club. We have $2400.00 dollars to spend, and can only figure out how to spend $900.00 in a logical manner. Army Regulations (Our Bible) definitely cut out illogical spending, so we don't know what to do with the other $1500.00. I'm a board member, and I'll roast in hades before we give a nickel to the Red Cross. What a life!

Oh well, same old life — new S-3. A nice guy to work with, he does his job and I do mine. Still making out schedules, and still having trouble getting range details straight.

Well, goodnight and all my love —

Bruce.
